Great Basin Bull Sale Returns to Rafter 3C Arena Feb. 14-17

By Anne McMillin

The Great Basin Bull Sale returns to the Rafter 3C Arena with four days of events of interest to any rancher, dog-lover, or general livestock enthusiast. Skilled working stock dogs and their handlers will compete at the Rafter 3C Arena on February 14 and 15 in the Mountain States Stock Dog Association dog trials to kick off the week's events. Start time is 7:30 a.m. daily, with free admission to the stands.

The Fallon Ranch Hand Rodeo will host a hot iron branding event on February 16 at 8 a.m., where spectators can watch teams of men, women, and families compete for prizes in the lifestyle competition. The event is free to attend.

The traditional, local favorite Bull Sale dinner and dance event begins with a social hour in the arena on February 16 at 4 p.m., with cocktails provided by the Rusty Canteen. The Great Basin Bull Sale tri-tip dinner will

Captain's Log – A Return of the Offspring

A long time ago, when I was a single mom raising the three little ones, they featured strongly in the column I wrote weekly for short Anne at The Fallon Star Press, "Losing it..."

There was the Athlete, the Man-Child, and the Drama Queen, woven through the fabric of my writer, grad-student, and mom life, adding hilarious antidotes very often set in the confines of the minivan where we spent a great deal of time running from volleyball to football to ballet to soccer and piano lessons.

The viewpoint of much of my life was from the stands of some child's event, and my tush took on the shape of bleachers.

Of course, now that the little ones are grown and scattered about the country, we have a family group chat where we communicate by text throughout the day – some days more than others. They've all finally taken pity on me – this thing used to happen on Snapchat, which is really difficult for my tech-challenged brain, and the Drama Queen has resisted tutoring me. Lately, gratefully, we have mostly switched to texting.

Food seems to feature heavily in our conversations. In a family of incredible cooks, how could it not? The Man-Child, who is now affectionately referred to as the Alpha-Dad, is, interestingly, out of all of us, probably the best cook. That's going to start a war, for sure. Lol.

He's just always had a knack. It was his sweet little face that once told me, "Mom, you cannot grill the meat anymore. Your steaks taste like the sole of my boot."

I think he was eight when he started being our BBQ guy. I didn't think you should let your kid run the BBQ, but also, I didn't like the steaks I made either.

Recently, there have been several dishes featuring "ditch chicken," what my little grandson Rhett calls the pheasants that are abundant in their North Dakota wilds. But there's also been my first sauerkraut, Trev made mocha creamer for the neighbors, a prime rib at Christmas that got high marks, and of course, all the different versions of our Thanksgiving turkeys.

We also get a lot of ice fishing pictures and even some special tutoring that happened by phone and photo as I was coached from Oakland and Stanley on how to fix the leaking (it was a flood, actually) pipe under my sink.

Who knew that the utter happiness you have when you first have these little tikes only gets better, magnified by the trials and the tears and everyday joys you live through together? After all you go through to get to this place with them, there truly is no joy like being with (even virtually) your adult children.

So while we keep tabs on the North Dakotans and their real winter, and the Oaklanders from their rooftop patio, we'll be right here in the Nevada Banana Belt...

Mayor Ken Tedford Announces Campaign for Re-Election

By Rachel Dahl

Mayor Ken Tedford has been a fixture at City Hall since 1987 when he was first elected to City Council. He ran for mayor and won in 1995, a seat he has held ever since. This week, he announced his intention to run for re-election to continue the work he has focused on for a lifetime.

“I have a goal every day of looking to see how to make things at the city better,” said Tedford. “It keeps your rudder straight. It keeps you in touch with the people you serve.”

Tedford has a focus on seniors, the youth, and veterans. Still, as a local businessman, the owner of Tedford Tire, supporting local businesses was ingrained in him by his father early on. He also believes in a strong police department that serves the community, keeping crime low, and he has created a culture of service throughout the city staff.

“I want a clean city, and they all know,” he said. “I want Maine, Williams, Taylor driven every day. A clean city starts with me and works down, and we all know, and it is a culture. Those are quality of life issues that are very important to citizens.”

The mayor and council have focused on several projects this past year, including significant improvements to A Street, Sherman, Broadway, Whitaker, Rancho, and Carson Streets. Other projects have included improvements to Oats Park with the splash pad and the pickleball courts, ongoing support of the Fallon Youth Club, and the very innovative installation of the ice-skating rink during the Christmas season.

Driven by his strong support of local businesses, Tedford believes efforts to draw people to the community pay off in dividends. “The whole plan of how we do tourism is focused on economic development and strengthening our local businesses. It’s supposed to come full circle. The ice rink was a draw, to bring people to the community to go shopping, not just for gas and hotel rooms.”

Tedford referenced economic data related to events at the Rafter 3C or youth sports that show a significant increase in spending during the timeframes of the events. “When we used to do the football league, we had local businesses that had their shelves shopped clean, with families killing time, spending disposable income. Everything we do is tied to business.”

Mayor Tedford has regularly faced opposition during his re-election campaigns but continues to be successful against his challengers. Because Fallon is a General Law city, the mayor has authority under the Nevada Revised Statute to serve as the Executive of the City. As long as there is no office of the City Manager, term limits do not apply.

In 1993, during a tumultuous period at city hall, the city manager was terminated. Bob Erickson, who served as mayor then, reorganized the city, eliminating the city manager position.

Paraphrasing the minutes of that meeting and the comment made by Erickson at the time, Tedford explained that Erickson was “no longer willing to delegate my responsibility when I have by statute the obligation as mayor to carry out this function.” When he was elected in 1995, Tedford continued serving in that role as the Executive of the City, acting as Chief Executive Officer. “It really provides for continuity of government,” said Tedford, “which is one of the things businesses and the community look for.”

veto authority and appoints, with confirmation by the council, the executive staff, including the Clerk/Treasurer, the Police Chief, and the judicial branch as the Municipal Court Judge.

Tedford is currently working with the council and city staff to increase the water tank capacity at Rattlesnake Hill and install a dewatering press at the sewer plant. There are plans to continue improvements to local streets and upgrades to Laura Mills and Burntwood Parks. Tedford is also focused on bringing businesses to the Business Park off Harrigan Road.

There is a note taped to Mayor Tedford’s desk, in his own handwriting, worn by time, that simply says, “Critical thought, Careful analysis.” They are words he lives by and a reminder during meetings in the mayor’s office of how Tedford governs.

“You grow with every decision,” he said, “I think I reflect how these people feel if they were here with the knowledge of the decisions you need to make. I love doing this. I love these people who elect me.”

Filing for open offices opens March 4 and closes March 15. More information is available at the office of the County Clerk, 423-6028, or the City Clerk, 423-5104.

Election 2024 – Who Will Be on the Ballot

By Rachel Dahl

Candidate filing for offices open in the primary election set for June 11, 2024, will open on March 4 at 8 a.m. and close on March 15 at 5 p.m.

Local offices required to file with the Churchill County Clerk are two county commission seats: District 1, currently held by Justin Heath, and District 3, held by Bus Scharmann. Neither is planning to file for re-election. Both offices are for a regular four-year term.

There are three open seats for members-at-large on the Churchill County School Board of Trustees, each a four-year term. Tricia Strasdin, Kathryn Whitaker, and Gregg Malkovich currently hold those available seats.

Rounding out the county seats open are two member-at-large positions with the Mosquito, Vector & Weed Abatement Board for four-year terms.

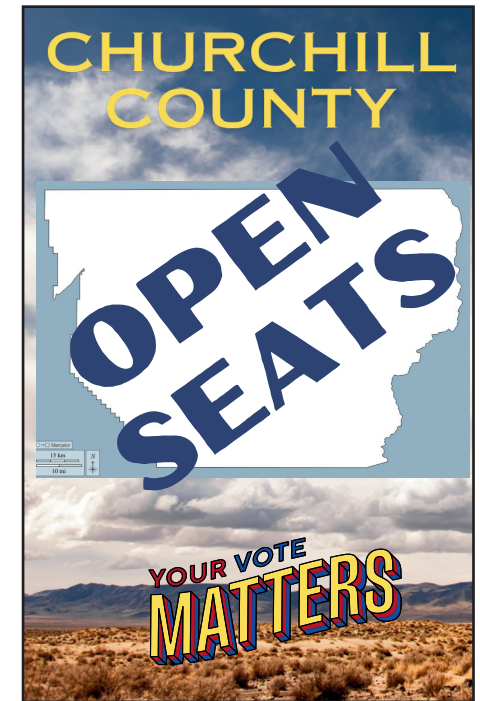

The City of Fallon offices that are open and require filing with the City Clerk include the Mayor for a four-year term and City Council Ward 2, a four-year term currently held by Kelly Frost.

Statewide offices that are open and filed with the Secretary of State include the six-year U.S. Senate seat currently held by Jacky Rosen, three Supreme Court Justices, Congress District 2 held by Mark Amodei, Assembly District 38 held by Greg Koenig, State Board of Education District 2, a four-year term, and one University Board of regent seat, District 9, a six-year term.

Candidate filing for the presidential primary was held in October and will be held on February 6. The Nevada Republican Party will conduct a Caucus and Presidential nomination process on February 8.

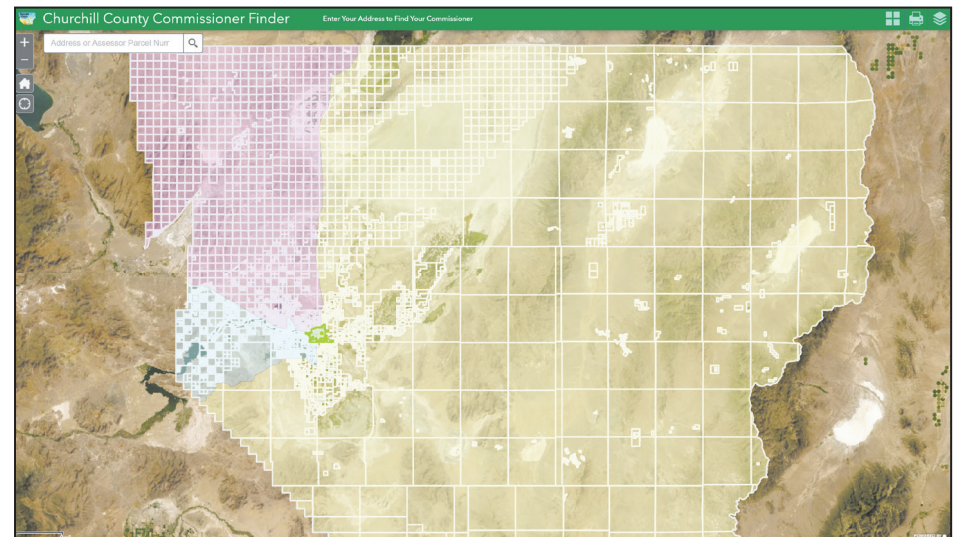

Filing for judicial offices was open January 2 through 12, and the only open seat in Churchill County is the six-year term for Justice of the Peace, drawing three candidates: current JOP Ben Trotter, Judge Pro Tempore Stuart Richardson, and Brenda Ingram.

Early voting for the primary election on June 11 begins on Saturday, May 25, and runs through Friday, June 7.

All things voter registration can be found at registertovote.nv.gov/.

District Court News from January 16

By Teresa Moon

The Tenth Judicial District Court convened on Tuesday, January 16, with Judge Thomas Stockard presiding.

Tanya C. Clay pleaded guilty to the Category D Felony of Possession of a Schedule I or II Controlled Substance for the Purpose of Sale, a First Offense which carries a potential penalty of 1-4 years in Nevada State Prison and a fine of up to $5,000. According to the factual basis given for the charge, Clay possessed cannabis concentrate for the purpose of sale. A Pre-Sentencing Investigation was ordered, with sentencing set for April 9.

Tyrrell Raphael Franklin, in custody, pleaded no contest to the Category D Felony of Arson in the Third Degree, which carries a potential penalty of 1-4 years in prison and a fine of up to $5,000. According to the state, Franklin set fire to a travel trailer/recreational vehicle. Judge Stockard provisionally placed Franklin into the Western Regional Specialty Court program and granted his release from custody after his first appearance in Specialty Court. A Pre-Sentence Investigation was ordered, with sentencing set for April 9.

Matt Charles Lane appeared for sentencing on a probation violation, to which he admitted. This was Lane's fifth violation regarding restitution payments attached to a December 2020 case of Exploitation of an Elderly or Vulnerable Person for an Amount over $5,000, a Category B Felony, in which Lane stole close to $30,000 from his grandmother. At the time of sentencing, the victim requested the court to grant Lane probation, at which time Lane stated he would pay $1,000 restitution per month. Deputy District Attorney Priscilla Baker asked the court to revoke Lane's probation and send him to prison, stating, "He has shown this court that he is not going to pay." In nearly three years, he has paid just over $5,000. The court determined that graduated sanctions had been exhausted. Judge Stockard modified the original sentence from 96-240 months to 28-86 months in prison. Lane was remanded to the custody of the Churchill County Sheriff's Office for imposition of sentence.

Cortney Lynn Martin, in custody, appeared for sentencing on the Category B Felony of Battery with a Deadly Weapon Causing Substantial Bodily Harm to a Victim that Constitutes Domestic Violence. Last October, Martin pled guilty to the charge. According to the factual basis given, she stabbed her husband with a knife four times, causing prolonged physical pain. Judge Stockard sentenced Martin to 64-160 months in prison. Credit was given for 244 days for time served, and Martin was remanded to the custody of the sheriff for imposition of sentence.

Selina Muncy appeared for sentencing on Non-payment of Child Support, a Gross Misdemeanor. Muncy was fined $250, with fees and assessments imposed.

Brandon Lee Reynolds pleaded guilty to the Category D Felony of Fraudulent Use of a Credit Card or Debit Card, which carries a possible penalty of 1-4 years in prison and a fine of up to $5,000. A Pre-Sentence Investigation was ordered, and sentencing was set for April 9.

Herbert Crazyhorse Williams pleaded guilty to two Gross Misdemeanor charges: 1) Battery of an Officer, a Provider of Healthcare, a School Employee, a Taxicab Driver, a Transit Operator, or a Sports Official, and 2) Conspiracy to Commit Burglary. Each charge carries a potential penalty of up to 365 days in jail and a fine of up to $2,000. The battery charge was said to have occurred during an interaction between Williams and a law enforcement officer in the Wal-Mart parking lot when Williams pushed or grabbed the arm of the officer. On the conspiracy charge, Williams allegedly went to Wal-Mart with another individual and conspired with them to take items from the store. Judge Stockard placed Williams on probation for 12 months on a suspended sentence of 364 days in jail on the battery charge and 120 days on the conspiracy charge, for a total of 484 days. Stockard fined Williams $500 on the battery charge, to be paid at $100 monthly.

Continuances and Warrants:

- Deanna Marie Burell was not present for her arraignment. A $25,000 cash-only bench warrant was issued.
- Brian Keith Alford - Arraignment continued to January 30.
- Jessop Reece Morrison's - Sentencing continued to March 5.
- Tasia Marie Ratti's - Status Hearing continued to January 24.
- Brandon Heleodoro Rodriguez-Sigala - Status Hearing was continued to February 6.
- Brian James Wilberg's - Arraignment continued to February 23.

Kelly Pleads Guilty: Two Counts of Lewdness

By Teresa Moon

Justin Eugene Kelly pleaded guilty to two Category B Felonies of Lewdness with a Child Under the Age of 16, each punishable by a mandatory term of 1-10 years in a Nevada State Prison and fines of up to $10,000. Both charges require registration as a sex offender and lifetime supervision.

The Criminal Complaint alleges that on or about April 1, 2020, through October 31, 2022, Kelly, being 18 years or older, did willfully and lewdly commit any lewd or lascivious act other than acts constituting sexual assault, upon or with the body of a child under the ages of 16 years, with the intent of gratifying the sexual desires. It is alleged that Kelly had inappropriate over-the-clothes contact with a child who was 14 or 15 at the time.

The second count alleges a similar act; however, it specifies the contact was over and/or under the clothing and is to have occurred on June 3, 2022.

Kelly gave a factual basis for each charge to the court. Judge Stockard ordered a Pre-Sentence Investigation and a Psychosexual Assessment. Sentencing was set for April 9.

Awbrey: 16-40 Years for DUI Causing Death or Bodily Harm

By Teresa Moon

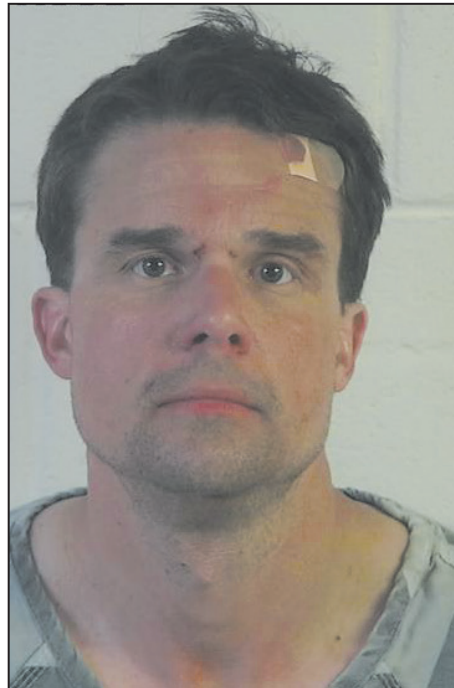

Michael John Awbrey appeared for sentencing in the Tenth Judicial Court before Judge Thomas Stockard on two Category B Felonies: 1) Failure to Stop on the Signal of a Police Officer Causing Death or Bodily Harm, and 2) Driving Under the Influence of an Intoxicating Liquor or a Controlled Substance Causing Death or Bodily Harm.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Lane Mills began his arguments by stating, “This defendant is here before this court with seventeen prior convictions; six of those are felonies, eleven misdemeanors.” Mills listed several convictions in numerous states, with these charges resulting in Awbrey’s ninth parole violation.

Mills told the court that when the incident occurred, the defendant was flying down Maine Street while being pursued by Highway Patrol, blew through the stop sign, and hit a vehicle, causing it to run over the top of another vehicle, ultimately causing severe bodily and emotional harm to occupants of the two vehicles.

“At some point, Your Honor, the people of this state need to be protected from people like Mr. Awbrey,” said Mills, who asked Judge Stockard to impose the maximum sentence. “You cannot have a more aggravated circumstance than this. People here were hurt. All because this defendant didn’t want to be pulled over and have to face the music.”

Churchill County Public Defender Jacob Sommer told the court his client was seventeen when he began to wrestle with the issues of substance abuse, and from that time, Mr. Awbrey, who is now in his early 40s, has not yet conquered that problem. “In the trail of that addiction is the wreckage of what could have been,” stated Sommer, who said there are no words to take away the harm he has caused and that Awbrey does not try to minimize his actions or behaviors.

Sommer further told the court that Awbrey had been engaged in the Crossroads substance abuse program, completing several lessons and classes and receiving at least two certificates of achievement through the program. Sommer noted this doesn’t remove the pain his client has caused, but it does indicate he is not someone who wants to disregard the lives and happiness of other people, “It’s the substance abuse problem that we see causes these actions. It is not an excuse; it just simply causes people to lose their ability to make good judgment. And in Mr. Awbrey’s case, that’s what happened.”

Sommer concluded, “There has to be a recognition in a sentence that it’s only as much as is required to ensure that the purposes of sentencing are met. This isn’t an opportunity to publicly flog someone who happened to be in our community and made a mistake. Only as much as it takes.” Sommer asked the court for 36 months in prison on each case, conceding Awbrey understands he has to pay the piper.

Awbrey read from a written statement to the court, “First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere remorse and apologize for what I did that brought us here.” He said he acted with no regard for public safety. As a result, innocent people were hurt, and he accepted full responsibility. He concluded his statement by praying for forgiveness and stating, “All my time incarcerated, however long that is, will be spent bettering myself as to never have something like this happen again.”

A victim in the case also made a statement explaining how this incident has impacted her life. “Honestly, Your Honor, it has completely ruined my life,” she said, telling the court she now has PTSD and can no longer work. “I feel like Mr. Awbrey should be punished.” Another victim was present at the hearing but chose not to make a statement.

Awbrey was sentenced to 96-240 months in prison on each count, to run consecutively for an aggregated sentence of 192-480 months, with a $2,000 fine imposed. He received credit for 299 days in jail and was remanded to the custody of the Churchill County Sheriff for imposition of sentence.

Lund Pleads Guilty to Embezzling from Cub Scouts

By Teresa Moon and Leanna Lehman

After filing multiple continuances in New River Township Justice Court, where the case originated, Debra Jeane Lund finally appeared in the Tenth Judicial District Court on January 16, 2024, before Judge Thomas Stockard, facing embezzlement charges.

Never formally arrested, Lund was booked on a warrant after Churchill County District Attorney’s Office filed charges in Justice Court. The case was eventually waived up to District Court, where Lund was charged with Embezzlement of Value $5,000 or More But Less Than $15,000. The charge, a Category C Felony, is punishable by 1-5 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000.

The initial Criminal Complaint, filed in February of 2023, charged Lund with a Category B Felony of Embezzlement of Value $25,000 or More But Less Than $100,000 and alleged that between November 12, 2017, and July 31, 2022, Lund converted $50,199.49 in Cub Scout funds for her own use.

The Criminal Complaint against Lund, filed on November 17, 2023, states, “The Defendant, being the

Senior Spotlight: Thanh Nguyen

Oasis High School Student Council students attend a Disneyland Leadership Retreat every other year. For graduating senior Thanh Nguyen, “The Disneyland Leadership Retreat is one of my favorite memories. I met tons of great people, went on tons of great rides, and got violently sick on the teacups. Overall, a 10/10 experience.”

Student Council is just one of many activities in which she actively participates. She is part of the National Honor Society, Yearbook, Lacrosse, Academic Olympics, We the People, and Mock Trials.

“I’m grateful for all of my friends, staff, and teachers who made me feel welcome and made basic days into memories,” she said. “They’re what I’ve looked forward to the most every day. I’ve learned a lot over these years, and I couldn’t be happier to have done it alongside such incredible people.”

“Shout out to Mr. Eric Grimes, Mr. Andy Lenon, and Mrs. Julie Stockard,” Nguyen said. “The GOATs (greatest of all time) of Oasis Academy. They helped me the most throughout high school, and I trust them more than anything. They’re more like family to me than teachers and a counselor. I wouldn’t be where I am today without them.”

“My favorite class was either Drafting or Intro to Software Development,” she said. “Both classes were a great balance of creativity and technology, so I had a blast. Not to mention, Mr. Jake Lewis taught these classes and was absolutely amazing.”

“There isn’t anything I regret about going to school at Oasis,” Nguyen continued. “I’ll look back on these memories with lots of love and happiness.”

“My advice to future students is to give everything you’re afraid of or think you won’t like a chance. If it’s not for you, then move on. It’s worse to regret not doing it than never trying. Try to find joy in every moment. Have fun with your friends. Go to the games. Make memories. Watch Barbie movies. Be silly and do all the things,” she said.

Nguyen will graduate in May with her high school diploma and Associate of Science from Western Nevada College. She then plans to attend the University of Nevada, Reno, and study Information Systems and Addiction Treatment Services.

Oasis Celebrates National Milk Day

On Tuesday, January 17, Oasis Academy celebrated National Milk Day after shifting it from its official day on January 11 due to a snow day, a weekend, and a federal holiday.

Kindergarten through eighth-grade students enjoyed a cold carton of whole milk to help celebrate the day. The Dairy Farmers of America donated Model Dairy milk with the help of Jared and Katrina Laca.

Recognizing days like National Milk Day is important to Oasis Academy as it provides an opportunity to share information about Fallon’s dairy industry with students.

Teachers Present at Nevada State Board of Education

Veteran Oasis educators Shannon Garcia and Jami Rowlett were invited to present at the Nevada State Board of Education in Carson City on January 10. They presented on implementing Read by Grade 3 (RBG3) at Oasis Academy.

The Nevada Read by Grade 3 Act (Nevada Revised Statute 392.750) ensures early reading interventions for kindergarten through third grade and reading support for students in grades 4 and 5. It’s aimed at increasing the reading proficiency of students in elementary school.

“Oasis focuses on putting the needs of students first,” said Shannon Garcia, Oasis Reading Specialist and Read by Grade 3 Site Lead. “RBG3 has proven to be successful as our reading proficiency at Oasis Academy has increased.”

GERKA STAFF OF THE WEEK

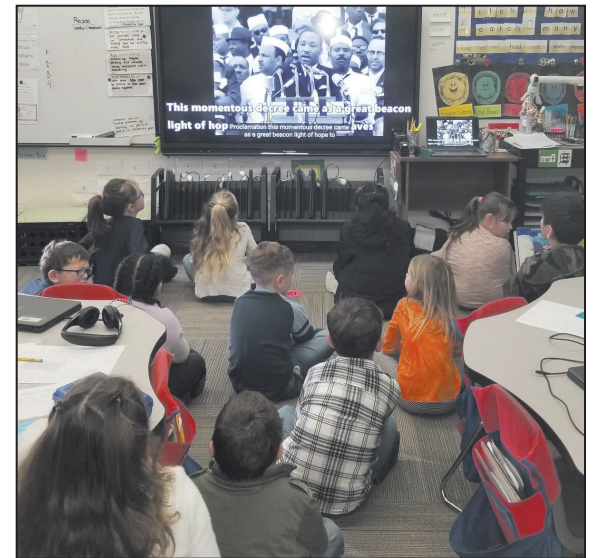

CCMS (above): Staff and students nominated Lilia Marquez and Kathryn Buckmaster as the Gerka staff of the week. The students nominated Buckmaster. One student said, "I think Ms. Buckmaster deserves to be Gerka Staff of the Week because she's super sweet, helps her students when needed, and is super funny." Marquez was Staff nominated by CCMS staff. One staff member said, "She has such a fabulous relationship with the students and knows how to handle difficult situations with grace and understanding." On behalf of CCMS staff and students, thank you, to Buckmaster and Marquez for making the school a great place to learn and work.

Numa (left): At an all-school assembly, students were recognized for perfect attendance from October through December, and 4th-grade SOAR students for the 2nd quarter were also recognized and rewarded with the 'Red Carpet' and a lunch table with special treats. Teachers choose two students from their class each quarter who consistently demonstrate Numa's SOAR motto: Safe School, Outstanding Character, Academic Achievement, and Respect for Self and Others. These students are then recognized and rewarded for their outstanding commitment to demonstrating the school motto.

E.C. Best (not pictured): Last week, students attended a Zoom virtual assembly for The Kids Heart Challenge, sponsored by The American Heart Association. ECB is proud to support the AHA and help kids with special hearts. Its Kids Heart Challenge program has started. "I have taken the Principal Challenge to help our school earn extra givebacks. When 50% of our students register, and we raise our first $1,000 in life-saving donations, our school will earn a bonus of $500 for PE and recess equipment," Principal Keith Boone said. Families can register today at heart.org/schools.

Lahontan (right): First-grade students in Stacey Manning's class spent last week learning about Martin Luther King Jr. Manning read books about him and his actions for our country and civil rights. Students also watched parts of his "I Have a Dream" speech. Then, the students wrote about King and his dream. "They loved learning about him and had many good questions and thoughts when it came to his work. It sparked some great conversation in our classroom," Manning said.

CCHS (left): Watching the season kickoff with other Northern Nevada teams made the First Robotic Competition Junk Bots excited for what is to come. ALLISON'S BOOK REPORT

“Lady Tan’s Circle of Women” by Lisa See

Aloha, readers! I am coming to you this week from the beautiful island of Maui. You know I don't leave home without a stack of books, and while my kids are boogie boarding until they can barely move, I am stationed in my beach chair with a great story and a cold drink.

“Lady Tan’s Circle of Women” by Lisa See is a beautifully written book based on the true story of a woman physician from 15th century China. Tan Yunxian was born into an elite family, but her early life was haunted by death, loss, and separation. When she was eight, she was sent to live with her grandparents. Yunxian’s grandmother is one of only a handful of female doctors in China, and she teaches Yunxian the pillars of Chinese medicine. From a young age, Yunxian learns about women’s illnesses alongside a young midwife-in-training named Meiling. The two girls grow close during their studies despite the prohibition that a doctor should never touch blood and the fact that midwives come in frequent contact with it. They vow to be forever friends, and they share both joys and struggles over the years. “No mud, no lotus,” they tell themselves. From adversity, beauty can bloom. When Yunxian is sent into an arranged marriage, her mother-in-law forbids her from seeing Meiling and from practicing medicine. Yunxian is to act like a proper wife, embroider bound-foot slippers, pluck instruments, recite poetry, give birth to sons, and stay forever within the walls of the family compound. How might a woman like Yunxian break free of these traditions, go on to treat women and girls from every level of society, and lead a life of such importance that many of her remedies are still used five centuries later? How might the power of friendship support or complicate these efforts?

“Lady Tan’s Circle of Women” is a beautiful story of women helping other women. The bond between Yunxian and Meiling is a perfect example of how important other women are in our lives and just how deep our relationships with our friends can be. I found the parts of the book surrounding foot-binding both gruesome and fascinating, and yet another reminder that women in history have continuously been dealt a bad hand, as well as the lengths women go to for various standards of beauty.

That’s it for this week. Now it is time to go soak up enough sun to last me the rest of winter. Come follow me on Instagram @allison.the.reader for more about what I am reading, as well as a dose of secondhand sunshine from The Aloha State.

Allison Diegel is the Executive Chaos Coordinator at the Diegel Home for Wayward Girls and Their Many Pets here in her hometown of Fallon. She has been reading since before she could talk, and now she likes doing lots of both.

The next time you're visiting our Maine Street period rooms, you'll have something new to look at. We've created a series of maps showing how our state, county, and the municipalities within Churchill County have changed since the 1840s. Stop by to check it out.

What's Cooking in Kelli's Kitchen - Cheesy Green Chile Bean Bake

I can't remember a January when I was quite so busy. On the day-to-day, I work with new small business owners and entrepreneurs to launch and grow their businesses through the Churchill Entrepreneur Development Association and the Nevada Small Business Development Center. Almost every day, I hear from another new person looking to start a business in Churchill County, which is fantastic. At the same time, my calendar is a mess, and sometimes it is suddenly five o'clock when I was sure that just five minutes ago, it was two. That is 100% the situation as I sit here typing this article.

When we are super busy, it can be overwhelming trying to come up with something to make for dinner and rally the energy and enthusiasm to actually make it. The flip side is that a healthy home-cooked dinner gives us the nourishment that we need to sustain ourselves through these times. A helpful tactic is to have some quick and simple recipes in our back pockets to pull out when we might otherwise choose to order out and drive through a take-out line.

Here's what I am making for dinner tonight:

Cheesy Green Chile Bean Bake
By Ali Slagle

INGREDIENTS:

1 T vegetable oil
2 poblano chiles, seeds and stems removed & coarsely chopped

Salt and pepper
2 (15-ounce) cans of pinto beans, rinsed
1 package of Mexican chorizo
1 (16-ounce) jar salsa verde, or 1 2/4 c homemade salsa verde
1/4 c packed cilantro leaves, stems reserved and finely chopped
1 1/2 c grated Monterrey Jack cheese
Lime wedges for serving

DIRECTIONS:

1. Arrange an oven rack in the upper third of the oven and heat the broiler to high.
2. In a large, ovenproof skillet, heat oil to medium-high. Add the poblanos and cook without stirring until they are browned underneath (3 minutes). Season with salt and pepper, and continue cooking, stirring occasionally for another 2-3 minutes.
3. Stir in the beans, Mexican chorizo, salsa verde, and cilantro stems. Simmer until the chorizo is cooked through and the sauce is thickened slightly.
4. Turn off heat, sprinkle the cheese over the top, and broil until melted and browned in spots, 2-3 minutes. Serve right away, topped with cilantro leaves and a squeeze of lime.

Movies & More

Your Community-Owned & Operated Fallon Theatre

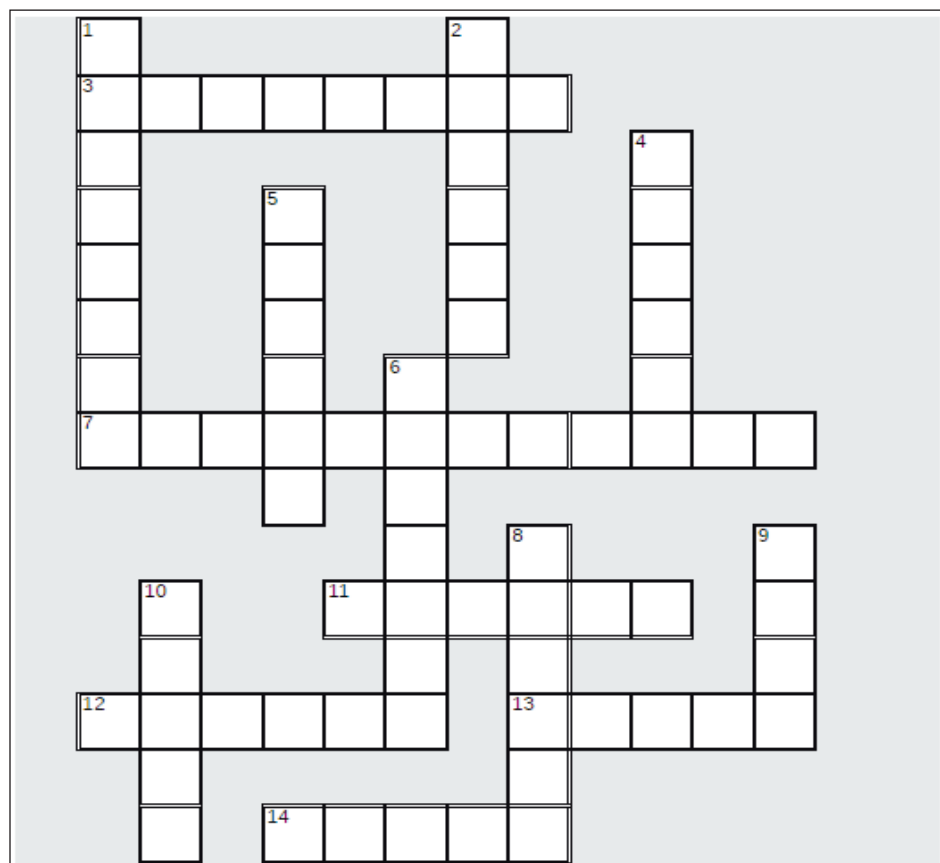

Free movies this weekend.

Playing this Friday, January 26, and Saturday, January 27, at 6 p.m., each evening is the 2006 animated comedy adventure “Barnyard.” In this hilarious film, like all the other animals in the barn, Otis the bull likes to sing and play while the farmer is away. However, the carefree bovine must find the courage to be a leader when he unexpectedly finds himself in a position of great responsibility. Voices provided by Kevin James, Courteney Cox, and Danny Glover.

Our second movie both evenings, starting at 7 p.m., plus a matinee at 3 p.m., Saturday, is the 1950 western drama “Operation Haylift.” This film, a fictionalized account of a true story, documents the 1949 winter snowstorm in northern Nevada, which involves scores of cargo aircraft delivering hay to stranded animals. A state of emergency is declared, and the US Army and National Guard units from Nevada and neighboring states are called out. In the winter, many sheep and cattle experience freezing temperatures and deep snow dying of starvation. Ranchers seek the Air Forces’ help in dropping hay to the stranded animals. A fleet of 18 cargo aircraft arrives at NAS Fallon to fly some of the missions to deliver hay to the stranded animals. Starring Bill Williams, Ann Rutherford, and Tom Brown.

Heads up, there are lots of laughs for you this February. Join us on February 9 at 6:30 p.m., prior to our movies that evening, for a free Galentine event featuring the Domesticated Man Band - great free fun. Then finish off a great Valentine’s weekend by joining us on February 10 for February Funnies. Live comedy on our historic stage starring Marc Yaffee with special guests Adam Stone and Brian Lee. The show starts at 7 p.m. You must be 18 or older to attend. Tickets are $20 in advance (brianleecomedy.ticketleap.com) or $25 at the door.

Thank you to all our sustaining members, sponsors & volunteers. We couldn’t do it without you!

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received by the Nevada Department of Wildlife (NDOW) Attention: Ashley White at 6980 Sierra Center Pkwy #120, Reno, Nevada, 89511. All sealed proposals must be received, and time recorded prior to 10:00 A.M., local time on Tuesday, January 30, 2024, at which time they will be publicly opened and read, for performing work as follows:

NDOW Fallon Office Site Improvements and NDOT Approach

In accordance with the Contract Plans and Specifications, the Project consists of the construction of a Type V NDOT driveway approach, boat inspection lane, and several bid alternates including boat inspection lane extension, additional parking, security fencing, concrete apron, and mass grading. Major work items include clearing and grubbing, demolition, earthwork and grading, asphalt concrete paving, concrete flatwork, fencing, signage and striping, erosion control and revegetation, and traffic control.

Issuance of the Contract Documents with proposal forms will be authorized through:

Ashley White
Nevada Department of Wildlife
6980 Sierra Center Parkway #120
Reno, NV 89511
Telephone: (775) 688-1526
Email: ashley.white@ndow.org

There will be no charge to obtain the Contract documents in PDF format.

Questions regarding the project shall be addressed in writing only to: Ashley White at the above email address. All questions shall be received prior to 5:00 P.M. local time on Thursday, January 25, 2024.

The engineer's estimate for this project is $545,000.00.

Pursuant to the Statutes NRS 338.020 to 338.090 of the State of Nevada, the Labor Commissioner has established the minimum wage rates and rates of overtime and legal holidays in the locality in which the work is to be performed.

A non-mandatory Pre-Bid Conference will be held at the project site located at 4082 Reno Highway in Fallon, Nevada regardless of weather, at 11:00 A.M. local time on Wednesday, January 17, 2024. There will be an opportunity to tour the worksite. All bidders submitting as prime or sub-contractors are highly encouraged to attend.

All proposals shall be accompanied by a bid bond amounting to not less than ten percent (10%) of the bid which is payable to said Owner signed by the bidder and include a corporate security, a cashier's, or certified check payable to the order of NDOW (Owner) for the said amount. Said bond shall become payable to Owner or said check shall be forfeited in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within (10) days after written notice that the Contract has been awarded to him/her: (a) enter into a Contract with the Owner, and (b) furnish certificates of insurance, a bond of faithful performance and a payment bond as described in the Contract Documents.

The results of bidding will be reported by the Owner within 30 days of the bid opening, at which time the Owner may award the Contract to the lowest, responsive, and responsible bidder as so reported; however, said Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding for any reason whatsoever.

No bidder shall withdraw his or her bid for a period of sixty (60) calendar days after the date of the opening thereof.

All bidders and their proposed subcontractors must be qualified pursuant to NRS 338.1379 or 338.1382 to bid on the contract. Additionally, all bidders and their proposed subcontractors must hold a valid license of a class corresponding to the work to be done as required by the State of Nevada's Contractor's License Law and possess any applicable business licenses in the local jurisdiction of the work.

LETTER OF PROMULGATION

To the Citizens of Churchill County:

Hazardous materials, when properly controlled, are important to everyday life. Uncontrolled, they may cause injury, death, destruction, and lingering effects that can last for many years. A continuing effort is being made to identify, locate, quantify, contain, and mitigate the risks associated with hazardous materials used, stored, and transported in Churchill County.

Emergency planning for hazardous material releases cannot be solved successfully by one organization or group but must be accomplished through the cooperative efforts of city, local, state, and federal authorities working in concert with the private sector.

Title III of the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-499) mandates that each local jurisdiction develop a plan for the emergency response to accidental releases of hazardous materials.

The local planning effort, under the guidance of the State Emergency Response Commission, is set forth in this Churchill County “HAZARDOUS MATERIALS EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN”. The plan includes a study of potential problems, lists the resources available to resolve problems, and the emergency procedures to be followed in case of a hazardous material release.

This plan documents a coordinated starting point for preparedness and response efforts. All emergency response agencies need to become familiar with its contents, train their personnel to meet the situations, and develop agency specific plans to supplement and amplify the local jurisdiction’s plan.

This plan is reviewed and training on its content is conducted annually. Your Churchill County Local Emergency Planning Committee (LEPC) ensures that lessons learned from training exercises, actual incidents, and drills are incorporated in the response manual each year and certifies this effort to the state. The emergency response manual is a living document that is reviewed and revised at these regular intervals to ensure the safety and protection of our citizens and their property.

Sincerely,
Jim R. Barbee, Churchill County Manager

Meet Hank

This is Hank. He is a one-year-old Great Pyrenees. Hanky-panky is said to be great with livestock such as goats, horses, and cattle. Hank would make an excellent livestock guardian dog, as long as there are no free-ranged birds around - he finds them tasty.

If you think he would make a good addition to your household, please call Fallon Animal Shelter at 775-423-2282 or come by and check him out.
