4th of July Festivities in Fallon

A Communitywide Celebration

By Leanna Lehman Photos by Leanna Lehman and Nancy Chapman

Hours before Fallon's annual 4th of July Parade, spectators began lining the street, with children bedecked in sparkling patriotic colors, ready with bags for candy and impatient for the fun to begin.

Hosted by the Fallon Chamber of Commerce, this year's event seemed to surpass any recent memory in size and enjoyment. The two-hour-long event featured parade floats from several local businesses and organizations. Several schools were represented, including CCHS cheer, Churchill County Middle School, Logos Christian Academy, and Oasis Academy College Prep.

Fallon's business community turned out in force, with floats by Rustoration Garage, replete with antique cars, Cheek Construction with their new Concrete On-Demand truck, Dairy Farmers of America, Jupiter Trucking, Big Mike's Guns and Ammo, Eagles Heating and Air Conditioning, Stone Cabin Coffee, and several others.

Representing some of our local churches and organizations were the Boys Baseball 11U and 12U State Champions, Oasis Desert Trail Riders (ATVs), Silver State Stars mounted flag team, Churchill County Jr. Rodeo Queen Evva Brown, Christian Life Center, St. John's Lutheran Church, and New Beginnings Community Church.

Shining bright for the red, white, and blue were the American Legion, Marine Corps League Toys for Tots, Fleet Reserve Association, NASF Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR), NASF Fed Fire and Emergency, Capt. Shane Tanner, NASF Base Commander, with family, other NAS personnel, and some parade-worthy oversized naval military equipment.

Several local vendors, many on Maine Street, offered a variety of summer-perfect foods and beverages, including Bottle and Brie, P & Q's Tavern, and Cranberry Cottage. Next to the Fallon Nugget, several more vendors were a part of Fallon's 4th of July Block Party, offering farm-fresh and cottage foods and featuring the annual bed races, a (pre-judged) pie-baking contest, and the window decorating contest.

Topping off the day's events were fireworks at Rattlesnake Hill, helping make this year's 4th of July celebration so memorable. Thanks to The Fallon Chamber of Commerce and its many parade sponsors, the City of Fallon, Churchill County Parks and Recreation, and all our community volunteers and organizations for all their dedication and hard work.

Captain's Log Best Crew Ever

By Rachel Dahl

As someone unsympathetically responded to my plea for grace last week in my horizontal state of agony, "That's still around?"

Ummm. Yes. Yes, COVID is tearing through town again, apparently. Or at least Arizona and Wyoming and California from the sounds of it. And it was no joke. I'm grateful a big part of last week was taken up by the holiday, which allowed for basically three days of sleep.

But I missed the parade and, the block party and the fireworks. And my sense of smell. That was so weird. I thought I was spraying vinegar on the deck to get rid of the ants, but maybe I got the bottle wrong, and it was just water. Stuck my face right in the jug of white vinegar, and nothing. Then I tried the bottle of Nyquil and couldn't smell a thing.

All in all, I was lucky this time—the first time I had it, the thing lasted a good three weeks. I still see those newspapers from February 2021 and wonder how we even got those out. Five days this time, and I'm good as new.

Speaking of lucky. I'm reminded every day of how grateful I am for this little crew we have at the paper and how lucky I am. They are just so good. And they keep things going, and they make things better all the time, and our whole community is better for the work they do.

And they're really good at decorating. If you haven't had a chance yet, swing by 25 South Maine Street and see the windows in our new office. They got all Martha a few weeks ago when Lucy was promoting the Parade and the Block Party and decorated our windows for the holiday and then they WON the decorating contest!!!

So while the Kleenexes get tossed and the welcome smell of Pine-Sol fills the air, we'll be right here...

...Keeping you Posted.

OBITUARIES

TAMMY LYNNETTE REYNOLDS January 29, 1970 - June 29, 2024

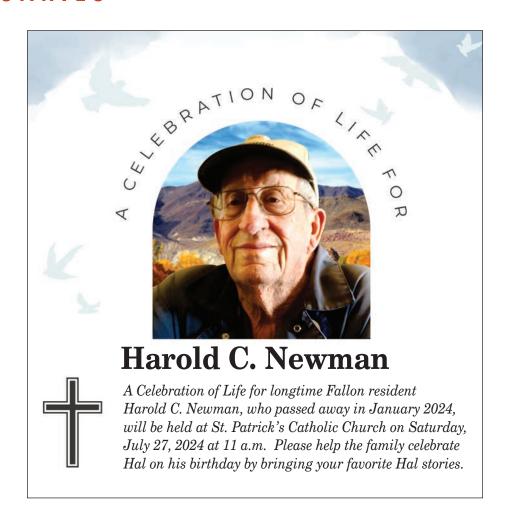

Tammy Lynnette Reynolds, beloved mother, grandmother, and girlfriend, passed away on June 29, 2024, at the age of 54. She was born on January 29, 1970, in Oklahoma City, OK, and most recently resided in Fallon, NV.

Tammy was preceded in death by her father, Alan Heath, loving husband, Brett Reynolds, and precious granddaughter, Charlotte Delgado. She is survived by her mother, Sandra Heath; her long-term partner, Steve Larkey; her daughters, Daphne, Desiree, and Andrea; and multiple grandchildren, who will forever cherish her memory. Tammy was also a beloved mother-in-law to Michael, Alex, and Henry.

Tammy will be remembered for her remarkable qualities as a woman, mother, grandmother, and partner. She brought joy and love to the lives of those around her and will be deeply missed by all who knew her.

Her legacy will live on in the hearts of her family and friends.

YVETTE ALTA (FOWLER) CAREY 1932 - 2024

Yvette Alta (Fowler) Carey, surrounded by her children and grandchildren, gently fell asleep with Jesus on July 1, 2024, at the age of 91.

Yvette was born in 1932 to Mae Miller Fowler and Ephraim Alvin Fowler. She was preceded in death by her husband Robert Carey, her parents, and three siblings: Beulah Testolin, Alma Singleton, and Harris Fowler. Her living siblings are Theda Roper and Harold Fowler, both of Carson City. Yvette lived in Fallon from the ages of 5 to 11 and returned in 1959 to make Fallon her home for the next 65 years.

Yvette's most treasured career was to live the role of devoted mother to her growing family. She later owned food trucks, operated the Gallagher Sales Yard Restaurant, became a Teacher's Aide, and was a Dispatcher for the Fallon Police Department for 13 years before teaching the DUI School and Traffic Safety Class until retirement.

Yvette's legacy and greatest love will live on through her six children: Alan Carey, Roger Carey (Debra), David Carey (Rhonda), Theresa Wilson (David), Carol Masterson, Anita McCart (Charlie); her 23 grandchildren Marla Wood, Ryan Carey, Denise Carey Timer, Arlyn Agaman, Jennifer Carey, Rob Carey, Kristen Carey, Lindsay Carey, Brett Carey, Jesse Nuttal, Logan Nuttal, Michon Harker, Travis Masterson, Michelle Barrenchea, Candy Barrenchea, Anthony Wilson, Alisha Wilson Hayden, Nikki McCart, Megan McCart, Krystle Gilmore, and Blaine McCart; along with 42 great-grandchildren; and 4 great-great-grandchildren.

Yvette's unwavering faith in our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, was the foundation of her life. She found her remarkable strength through her Bible, with passages diligently dog-eared and underlined, memorized, and lived out each day. She was a devout and studious member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

She was known for her kindness, resilience, humor, and her one-of-a-kind ability to make every child, grandchild, and loved one feel unique and special in her love. Each one was the light of her life and the joy she thanked the Lord for each night. Whether it was mud pies in the garden, sharing veggie cuts and a pot of beans, peeling apples and listening to stories, church camp with friends, Easter morning with 60 family members, a wild car ride into town, a feisty game of Quirkle, or quiet evening prayer... every moment and every memory will be cherished and held dear.

Yvette's smile and laughter will be missed deeply, for the hole that is left by her earthly absence will echo in the hearts of her large and loving family.

Services were held on Monday, July 8, at the Fallon Seventh-day Adventist Church at 755 Esmeralda St., directed by The Gardens Funeral Home. Our thanks and appreciation to Loretta Guazzini for her direction and to Banner Hospital staff for their kindness and care during this difficult time.

Real Hometown Rodeo

By Leanna Lehman

Cody and Kristina de Golyer hosted their Tenth Anniversary Bucking Horse & Bull Bash on June 29, and what a Wild West event it was.

For those who missed it, many rodeo-goers said this year's anniversary Bull Bash was the best de Golyer rodeo to date. Cars and trucks filled the C3 Event Complex parking lot to overflow, leaving standing room only in the outdoor arena grandstands.

Despite the scorching heat, spirits were high among event attendees. The occasional lengthy waits for funnel cake, Wild West Burgers, top-notch tacos, or libations from Troy's Double Shot Bar became an opportunity for fun chance conversations with long-lost friends and acquaintances.

"What a whirlwind of a week to commemorate such a huge dream and passion of ours!" said Kristina. "We could not be more happy with the turnout, the way all of our visions came about, all the smiling faces, the roar of the crowd, the contestants' determination, the expansion of adding the VIP section." This year, attendees in the sold-out VIP section were seated on the arena floor, with nothing but an arena fence between them and the rough stock and contestants, giving them a steady dose of adrenaline to go with their tri-tip dinner catered by Shelly Gallagher's Wild Horse Café.

with several broncs getting the best of their would-be riders. Lane Johnson was the winner of this year's Ranch Bronc Riding, scoring a jaw-dropping 90-point ride on Skydive. Several other riders made their marks, hitting scores in the mid-to-high 80s.

The bulls were harder to wrangle, with only one bull rider making eight seconds – Blake Cooper Bonds, who scored a morethan-respectable 87-point ride. Once the bull riding concluded, contestants, volunteers, and eventgoers of all ages enjoyed live music by White Water, dancing and laughing during what proved to be a made-to-order perfect summer evening.

In a world that seems to be changing at the speed of light, Cody and Kristina slowed down time for a day and shone a light on the heart of our community through their real hometown rodeo.

The world-famous Riata Ranch International Trick Riders were on tap for the grand entry, one rider presenting the American Flag while standing atop the saddle. Later in the show, the highly talented young riders wowed the crowd with daring riding tricks and seemingly impossible feats, showcasing the group's incredible talent.

The annual mutton busting competition kicked off the rodeo, which Fallon's own Jesse Crystal won. And, as per usual, the Ranch Bronc Riding was wild and woolly,

If that was not enough to keep the crowd on the edge of their seats, the Shark Tank certainly was. In this bull riding adrenaline bonus, a small circular structure made of fencing panels is placed in the center of the arena. This year, six brave souls from Big Brand Tire & Service, a major event sponsor, experienced the event from the center of the action. It was clear from the fast and furious bullstock that stormed their way around the arena that the bulls were no less fearsome than circling sharks.

Much respect and appreciation to all involved to make this happen," Kristina said, who expressed her and Cody's thanks to all who helped make the event possible. "This show takes a village, and we had it... By far, the best crew was on board with us for the most important milestone yet." And to the many sponsors who continue to support the de Golyer's Bucking Horse & Bull Bash, "This event was a success because you were all on board with us. So, thank you for believing in us."

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Housing Study says Churchill has Significant Shortages

By Rachel Dahl

Eugenia Lamore, president of EKAY Economic Consultants, hired this spring by Churchill County to update the Housing Needs Assessment, presented findings last week during the county commission meeting, saying bluntly, "You need housing."

According to Lamore, who partnered with the Center for Regional Studies at the University of Nevada on the update, Churchill County grew by 775 people from 2021 to 2024 and, using historical growth patterns, is on tap to conservatively grow by 561 people from 2024 to 2028. While the number of children in the community declined, the number of family households grew, indicating an increase in the number of adults living together in roommate situations, which Lamore said could explain the housing imbalance.

She also explained that there has been significant income growth, with personal income increasing 35% and the Consumer Price Index increasing 16.5%. Churchill is clearly outpacing inflation.

The increase in population sees over 60% of the influx in new people coming from outside the state, "and they are younger than your existing population, and their income is higher, driving up your income," Lamore said.

Wages have increased in Churchill County since 2019, seeing a 20% growth, again outpacing inflation, with the CPI rising 19%, according to Lamore, with the average salary in 2023 at $1,100 per week. The top industries are retail, healthcare, and public administration.

Average employment growth is projected to be 200 new jobs, but that does not consider the 620 new jobs projected at Naval Air Station Fallon. Lamore reported that Bruce Breslow, the consultant running the Churchill Fallon Economic Development efforts, projects anywhere from 218 to 2,600 new jobs if the projects he is working to bring to the community materialize.

The total projected new jobs in Churchill County by 2028 runs from a conservative estimate of 1,100 based on historical growth data to 3,500 based on ongoing economic development efforts.

Lamore said the community has nearly 11,000 housing units, averaging their build dates in 1982. She said 37% of the housing stock was built between 1990 and 2009. No Single-Family Attached products (condo or apartment units) have been built since 2010, and only four multi-family units have been built since 2010.

Single-family detached houses comprise 62% of the housing product, with 3% of the inventory being multi-family units.

During 2012, the vacancy rate for available housing was 6%, and in 2022, that availability had dropped to 3%. "There just is not much on the market," Lamore said. In May of 2024, when the data was being gathered, there were 38 active listings, four of which were manufactured housing. There were 29 rentals available.

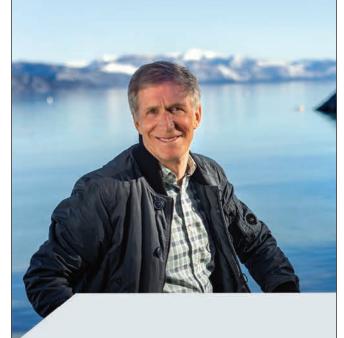

This demand has resulted in a growth in the prices for all residential products. In 2024, the county's median sales price for new single-family homes was $386,950, compared to $307,929 in 2021. That is a 26% increase over three years since the report was initially presented in 2021.

Asking rental rates for single-family homes declined from $1,850 in 2021 to $1,700 per month in 2024, with the report explaining that the homes available for rent in 2024 were smaller than in 2021. On a per-square-foot basis, the asking rental rates increased from $1.10 to $1.31, an increase of 20%. The same detail plagued the multifamily products, with the per-squarefoot increase going from $1.23 in 2021 to $1.43 in 2024.

In answer to the apparent demand for housing, Lamore said there are currently 6,200 units of housing proposed in Churchill County and in various stages of development, 910 of which are multi-family or apartments and 300 single-family attached.

The update reports that of the proposed housing units, 395 have recorded final maps, all single-family detached units. Three single-family attached projects have been approved in the County, with 317 units, of which 87 units have been issued final maps. A total of 910 multifamily apartment units are planned, with 852 units in two developments recently approved by the commission.

"You need 152 – 600 units a year to keep up with the population growth," Lamor said. "Currently, you're building 105 per year which is a significant gap in construction to demand."

"Let's Build a Future That's Prosperous for Every Nevadan."

City Council Meeting

By Caesar Ababneh

On June 27, the Fallon City Council met in their regular meeting to address and approve five resolutions adjusting funding issues, with no objection from either the public or the council.

The first resolution (24-06) augmented the Fiscal Year 2024 budget for $4,417,000 into the General Fund, the Convention and Tourism Authority Fund for $150,000, and the Mayor's Youth fund for $15,000. Nevada Revised Statute authorizes the city to augment a budget when anticipated resources are in excess of funds estimated at the beginning of a budget cycle. Councilwoman Kent motioned for approval, and Councilman Harmon seconded it.

The second resolution (24-07) authorized a temporary inter-fund loan of $600,000 from the Landfill Enterprise Fund into the Water Enterprise Fund. The loan is to be repaid in full in one year. Councilman Harmon motioned for approval, and Councilwoman Kent seconded it.

The third resolution (24-08) authorized a temporary loan of $400,000 from the Landfill Enterprise Fund, placing the money in the Sewer Enterprise Fund. Similar to 24-07, the loan will be repaid in one year. Councilwoman Frost motioned for approval, and Councilman Harmon seconded it.

Utility rates were significantly increased in April 2023 and adjusted again on July 1, 2024, based on the Consumer Price Index. The increased utility rates will allow for more resources for loan repayment.

The fourth resolution (24-09) functions to "true up" the 2023-24 Fiscal Year budget by augmenting funds based on the total available resources at the end of the year. The augmentations included the Electric Enterprise Fund in the amount of $1,155,000, the Water Enterprise Fund for $175,000, the Sewer Enterprise Fund for $325,000, the Sanitation Enterprise Fund for $490,000, the Landfill Enterprise Fund for $374,000, the Data Processing Internal Service Fund for $25,000, and the Public Works Internal Service Funds in the amount of $243,000. It was motioned for approval by Councilman Harmon and seconded by Councilwoman Frost.

The fifth and final resolution (24-10) authorized the allowance adjustment for doubtful accounts to the Enterprise Funds' account receivables for $84,859. The accounts presented had been outstanding before July 1, 2022, and are no longer city customers. The accounts have been forwarded to a collection agency for additional collection efforts. The adjustment represents 0.4% of the Enterprise Funds' total operating revenues for the 2023 Fiscal Year. This resolution was motioned for approval by Councilwoman Kent and seconded by Councilman Harmon.

Nevada Revised Statute 354.598005 allows for budget appropriations between functions and funds if those transfers do not increase the total appropriations for the fiscal year.

COURT

Stockard Acknowledges Defendant's Efforts at Chasing His Recovery

By Teresa Moon

Stephen Jacob Selstad appeared for sentencing before Judge Thomas Stockard in the Tenth Judicial District Court on Tuesday, June 25. Selstad pleaded guilty in March to the Category E Felony of Possession of a Controlled Substance and the Gross Misdemeanor charge of Abuse, Neglect, or Endangerment of a Child Not Causing Substantial Mental or Bodily Harm.

Judge Stockard stated that Selstad is eligible for probation based on the results of the Psychological Risk Assessment mandated by state statute.

Deputy District Attorney Aaron Thomas agreed, noting the PRA shows Selstad is at low risk to re-offend, provided he is actively treating his drug problem. Thomas asked for probation on both counts, with the condition that he continue with his drug treatment, "which will protect him, protect our community, and protect the child involved."

Charles Woodman, Esq., defense counsel for Selstad, said his client is almost unrecognizable. He is showing all the signs of someone doing everything he is supposed to be doing. He is in the middle of treatment and has no plans to change that. Woodman asked the court to grant Selstad the privilege of probation.

Selstad told the court that he had completed the New Frontier residential program and was now doing his outpatient recovery program. He is employed, going to meetings, and has built his support system, "I am chasing my recovery harder than I ever chased the drugs." Selstad said he could say he is sorry, and he is trying to show he is sorry by his actions.

Judge Stockard granted Selstad 18 months of probation on the suspended sentences of 12-36 months in prison on the felony charge and 364 days in Churchill County Jail on the gross misdemeanor. He ordered the two sentences to run concurrently. In addition to standard conditions of probation, Selstad was ordered to maintain full-time employment, maintain his program as outlined by his c ounselors, and continue with his 12-step program.

Judge Stockard told Selstad, "You understand that your actions speak louder than your words, and very, very few people that are in your situation at this point understand that ... keep it up... I'm proud of you."

District Court

The Tenth Judicial District Court convened Tuesday, June 25, with Judge Thomas Stockard presiding

Tenth Judicial District Court Building.

By Teresa Moon

Salvador Macias, Jr. appeared for sentencing on the Gross Misdemeanor of Conspiracy to Commit Abuse, Neglect, or Endangerment of a Child.

Deputy District Attorney Priscilla Baker asked Judge Stockard to sentence Macias to 364 days, suspended for 12 months, with conditions that include no use of alcohol or controlled substances. Additionally, he must obtain an evaluation, follow all recommendations therein, and attend an anger management class.

Macias's defense attorney, Steve Evenson, Esq., said that he and his client agree that he should abstain from using alcohol or "those types of things." He told the court that Macias had already had his evaluation and had started to follow the recommendations listed. Additionally, he began attending anger management classes. Evenson asked Judge Stockard to remove Macias from probation when he has met the state's conditions.

Macias told Judge Stockard, "I guess this whole thing's a mess... I'm very sorry for all this situation. And, you know, I just want to get through this."

Stockard placed Macias on probation for 12 months on a suspended 364-day jail term and ordered him to continue complying with the state's conditions.

Dereck Vradenburg-Wheeler, in custody, appeared for sentencing on the wobbler charge of Attempt to Commit Burglary of a Business, which can be sentenced as a misdemeanor or a felony.

Senior Deputy District Attorney Chelsea Sanford asked Judge Stockard to sentence the charge as a Category E Felony, with a term of 12-32 months in the Nevada Department of Corrections, noting that he is about 28 years old and has 18 prior convictions.

Churchill County Public Defender Jacob Sommer agreed that taking something from Walmart is not acceptable. He said his client knows that, took responsibility, and paid full restitution. Sommer asked Judge Stockard to grant Vradenburg-Wheeler the privilege of probation with a maximum underlying sentence. Should the court find prison appropriate, Sommer asked Judge Stockard to consider the minimum. Vradenburg-Wheeler apologized for his conduct.

Judge Stockard sentenced the charge as a felony, ordering Vradenburg-Wheeler to serve 12-36 months in prison with credit given for time served. He was remanded to the custody of the Churchill County Sheriff for imposition of the sentence.

Stacy Karyn Babb appeared for sentencing on the Category E Felony of Possession of a Controlled Substance. Court Services informed the court that they have had an incredibly difficult time getting Babb to comply with the terms of her release. According to Court Services, she has violated the terms of her release three times since May.

DDA Priscilla Baker asked the court for 19-48 months with mandatory probation, asking for the higher end of the term to be held over her head.

PD Wright Noel asked for straight probation for Babb, stating she does not want to be placed in Drug Court.

Babb told the court she feels she has been working hard to comply with court services. However, she lives north of town and is not within walking distance of Court Services. Babb said she has a difficult time getting in for testing. "I've been working my program," said Babb. "Personally, I don't think my alcohol use is an issue."

Additionally, Babb told Judge Stockard, "I'm doing well," to which Stockard replied, "No. No, you're not."

Upon conferring with Babb, Noel told the court that Babb would like to change her request to probation with the condition of drug court. Judge Stockard suspended proceedings, placing Babb on probation for 12 months, with the condition that she enter and complete the WRDC program, obtain a substance abuse evaluation, and follow its recommendations. Fees and assessments were imposed.

DDA Aaron Thomas, for the state, said, "The question before this court is can the court trust the defendant to be placed on probation again." Thomas expressed concern that someone who was dealing drugs was loose in our community for so long without supervision. He said the state is of the opinion that the defendant has answered the question of whether he can be trusted on probation.

Charles Woodman, Esq., representing Haynes, told the court that his client was able to get himself off drugs, he's been working, and that he has a 20-year-old son who means everything to him.

Haynes read a written statement to the court in which he said that he made a mistake and was wrong, and he knows that and apologized. Haynes said he has applied to Idaho House, a long-term sober living facility, but has yet to hear back from them. "More than anything, I just want to be clean forever; I don't want to be a drug addict," Haynes concluded.

Judge Stockard modified and revoked Haynes' probation and sentenced him to 14-48 months in prison, remanding him to the custody of the Churchill County Sheriff for imposition of the sentence.

There were no Law and Motion hearings in the District Court on July 2.

ADOPT-A-PILOT PROGRAM FINISHES WITH LETTERS AND TEST FLIGHTS

Adopt a Pilot Kristopher Nastro with students.

The Southwest Airlines Adopt-a-Pilot finished the school year with paper airplane test flights and letters from Southwest Passengers.

Pilot Kristopher Nastro has spent the semester teaching fifth-grade students about the science of flight, including drag, resistance, lift, and weight. The students experimented with those things firsthand by designing and building test paper airplanes. The project involves students flying their planes in a competition in the Western Nevada College parking lot.

Along with learning the science behind flying, students also practiced their writing skills. Each student hand-wrote a letter to a Southwest Airlines passenger. Pilot Nastro then took the letters on his flight to Hawaii, asking passengers to reply to the students.

Passengers shared personal stories and their trip plans to the islands.

"We are on our way to Hawaii for a little vacation," wrote one passenger. "My husband works hard; we raise cattle, and it is a lot of work, so we needed a little rest."

The passengers also expressed their gratitude for the opportunity to write and share their thoughts.

"Thank you for the letter. This has made my trip more interesting and fun," wrote another passenger.

"Kris brought so much energy and enthusiasm to the classrooms. Kids had a genuine understanding of the physics of flight," said Rochelle Tisdale, Oasis Academy Principal.

The lessons from Nastro were engaging for the students.

"He got creative with the lessons and made sure there were plenty of hands-on activities for all the students. We cannot thank him enough for dedicating his time to Oasis Academy and for taking Buster Bighorns in the cockpit with him around the US," she said.

BARBOSA HIRED AS NEW PRINCIPAL

Oasis Academy is excited to introduce Amanda Barbosa as the new K-8 principal. Barbosa has extensive charter school experience, both in the classroom and in administration.

Barbosa has seven years of teaching experience, including first and second grades and art and physical education. She has been the Principal of Ascent Academy in West Valley City, Utah for the last two years.

She holds a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education, a Master of Science in Curriculum and Instruction, and a Master of Science in Educational Leadership.

Among her many accomplishments at Ascent Academy are improving teacher retention by 15% and improving reading growth by 7%. She was nominated for the Utah Association of Public Charter Schools Circle of Excellence Awards as "Rookie of the Year" in 2023 and "Administrator of the Year" in 2024.

For many reasons, Oasis Academy was attractive for the next step in Barbosa's career.

"I love charter schools, and Oasis Academy is a very well-established charter school," Barbosa said. "One of the things that I love is that our students have the opportunity to graduate from high school with an associate's degree.

an associate's degree."

Barbosa was able to see Oasis and the Fallon community when she visited in May.

"I got to know the staff and how amazing and supportive they all are," she said. "Coming from Utah, I am looking forward to being warmer in the winter as well."

Barbosa wants to continue Oasis's student-first mindset with her goals for the coming school year.

"My goals include improving growth in reading and math. I want to spend a lot of time in the classroom with students and teachers, and I'm looking forward to getting to know students, parents, staff, and the wonderful Fallon community members," she said.

Barbosa was born and raised in Brazil and moved to Utah in 2010 to attend college. She has a well-trained corgi named Echo.

Her hobbies include kayaking, hiking, reading, crafting, spending time with family and friends, and traveling. Her international travel has included visiting Greece, Turkey, Brazil, Mexico, the United Kingdom, Argentina, Paraguay, and France.

Parents can meet Ms. Barbosa at Back to School Night on Wednesday, August 14, from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

OASIS PARENT ORGANIZATION, FRIENDS OF OASIS ACADEMY (FOA) MAKES THE SCHOOL YEAR MEMORABLE

The dedicated parents of Friends of Oasis Academy helped ensure that long-standing Oasis traditions were kept alive and grew during the 2023-24 school year.

The first tradition was Pizza Thursdays. Parents purchase pizza throughout the year, allowing students to have Domino's Pizza on Thursdays for lunch. The Pizza Thursday program at Oasis helps fund Field Day. The students avidly look forward to delicious hot pizza every Thursday.

Another growing event at Oasis Academy has become the Book Fair. This year's Candy Land-themed event was held in November and saw the largest turnout to date. At the culmination of the fair, FOA ensures that all kindergarten through eighth-grade students receive a book.

One of the favorite days of the year is Field Day. The kindergarten through sixthgrade students enjoyed bounce houses, cotton candy, dunk tanks, a rock wall, snow cones, and more.

The seventh and eighth-grade students' Field Day was also made possible in part by FOA renting the outdoor pool and renting bounce houses from Louie's Ace Home Center.

The day creates lasting memories for the students. Hours of planning and coordination are required to pull off this memorable day.

"FOA could not operate without the support of Oasis parents, families, and the Fallon community," said Melinda Santos, FOA Vice President. "We are so thankful for the generous contributions made this past year that helped make all these fun events happen to create memorable experiences for students and staff."

FOA continues to encourage parents to volunteer with them. If you want to join or support FOA, please get in touch with FOA President Sarah Moffitt at foabighorns@gmail.com. More information about FOA will also be available for parents at Back to School Night and in the Uniform Store.

CCHS Student Intern Update

Staff Report

Brody Hughes, an upcoming senior at CCHS, is currently interning at CC Communications. "I am using what I learned in my Cyber Security class at the high school with my internship at CC Comm," says Brody. CCHS's Work-Based Learning Coordinator, Dr. Sue Segura, who monitors student progress with local employers taking on interns, explained, "I knew this was a perfect example of what Work-Based Learning truly is – transferring skills from school to work." According to Segura, Brody is currently working in the IT department at the last countyowned telecommunications company in the U.S. He works directly with former CCHS graduate Robert McConnell (2007) and is finishing industry-recognized IT certificate credentials.

Intern James Kelsey, a senior, is working alongside CCHS graduate Larry Burchard (1987) as a Churchill County School District maintenance and grounds specialist. According to Segura, Kelsey is currently learning all the aspects of becoming a hands-on industrial employee. "I watched as he tested the batteries that are throughout the county in our battery backup stations," she said, "As I walked out, I thought to myself. Yes, this is what Work-Based Learning is all about.

Hawaii Dream Comes True for Allstars Committed to the Team

By Nancy Chapman

When you plan to take your Allstar Baseball Team to Hawaii to compete in the regional tournament, there are many parts to work through, and the process can be daunt-

Will the parents of the players be willing to take on this endeavor? Will the players be willing to take on this endeavor? Will the community be willing to take on this endeavor? The answer to all these questions was a resounding "YES."

For some of these 12U players, this could be a once-in-a-lifetime experience. This is an experience that, as adults, they can look back on and say, we went to Hawaii and competed with our peers at a level and location, unlike any other.

Fallon Allstars 12U has been built by a standard unique to baseball. Each player works with their teammates to win. But each player stands by him or herself for possibly seven pitches of a ball, sometimes more, to advance to first base or go back to the dugout and wait for their next time at bat.

Coach Justin Judd has built the team with the mindset that "this team is built around the team first and we are playing for the name on the front of the shirt, not the back. We purposely make them take a first-pitch strike once a player is on base, to move the runner up so every kid starts with one strike. This is a small example of one way we as a team can help each other. We will continue to instill this concept into Fallon baseball, and I am very proud of each player and the selflessness they have shown."

Coach Judd knew that the Allstars games would be challenging for his players because he had to put out there that "we are going to Hawaii," which brings out the competitiveness in the other teams. The 12U Allstar players did not disappoint. Coach Judd was insistent that his players and their parents know, "This is probably the first tournament where everyone was a unit, no bad attitudes, no fits thrown, just good clean baseball top to bottom. We played 19 out of 30 innings, and every player did their part to get the job done. Every game is a process, to make them better men as well as baseball players. Thank you for being part of the journey. Nothing makes me happier than seeing these kids succeed."

Coach Judd quickly stated that none of this could have been possible without first his wife, Emily, and his family. The other coaches also put in the time, along with their wives and families. As anyone knows, most children's sports coaches are volunteers.

Taking on this level of commitment while leading a baseball team to Hawaii's "big stage" is tremendous. Fallon Allstar 12U coaches are no exception. The coaches all have very busy lives off the field. Both Andrew and Josh have boys playing on the Allstar team. He also added that the mothers of his team are quick to jump in when and where needed to ensure the team succeeds as a whole.

Assistant Coach Josh McCallum is an electrical Engineering graduate from the University of Nevada, Reno, and a Navy veteran. He continues to serve in the military as a Program Manager for the Nevada Automotive Test Center proving grounds. His wife, Teresa, is a teacher at Fernley High School.

Pitching Coach Andrew Craig is a commercial airline pilot for Delta Air Lines and a US Navy Reserves Captain, where he serves as the Reserve Component Commander for the Naval Aviation Warfare Development Center in Fallon, NV. He also has a working beef cattle ranch where he sells grass-finished beef and grass hay directly to the consumer. His wife, Karla, is a nurse and rancher.

Coach Judd serves the community as Captain and Engineer of the Fallon/Churchill Volunteer Fire Department. He is self-employed and owns Just in Time Heating and Air Conditioning. His wife, Emily, is a teacher at Churchill County Middle School.

This team has shown each other what it takes to make a difference in the community by giving their time and knowledge for the betterment of the players.

Allison's Book Report "Lucky" by Marissa Stapley

People ask me where I get all of my books. The answer is all over the place. Independent bookstores are my favorite, and I try to visit one or two when I travel. I never leave a used bookstore empty-handed. I love Barnes & Noble and Amazon, if for nothing other than their never-ending selection. I love my Book of the Month and Aardvark monthly subscriptions because getting little packages of books in the mail each month is so much fun. The Churchill County Library is, of course, the most economical choice, and they have a great selection of ebooks and audiobooks available online, both new and old, for the perfect price of "free-ninety-nine," so you don't even have to leave home to get lost in a great story. I got this week's book at a local thrift store, and even though I only paid a quarter for it, "Lucky" by Marissa Stapley is worth its weight in gold.

This quick read is perfect for your swim bag or to devour in an afternoon or two in the comfort of your favorite chair. Lucky Armstrong is a grifter, and she is outstanding in her field. She has recently pulled off a million-dollar heist with her boyfriend, Cary. She is ready to take the money and start over again - a brand-new life with a new identity - when things suddenly go sideways. Suddenly, Lucky is alone, without the help of her father or her boyfriend, master scammers who taught her everything she knows. Lucky buys a lottery ticket on a whim, and to her surprise, it ends up being the winning ticket worth millions of dollars. Her joy at winning is short-lived when she realizes that cashing in the winning ticket means she will be arrested for her crimes and sent to prison, where she will never get the opportunity to spend her winnings. As Lucky tries to forge ahead with her new life and avoid capture, she is forced to face the past. She must reconcile with her father, find the mother who abandoned her as a baby and deal with the dark past of the man she thought she loved. Lucky has to figure out what it means to be honest and independent before her luck runs out.

"Lucky" is part caper, part coming-of-age story, and 100% a reminder of that age-old adage, "You can't scam a scammer." I would say that this one was a quarter well spent. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did—and I hope you pop over to my Instagram @allison.the.reader, where I will be digging through the stacks in every bookstore, library, and thrift store I come across looking for more great books to share.

Movies & More

Your Locally-Owned & Operated Fallon Theatre

By Kelli Perez

The summer is heating up, both outside and here at the theatre. We've got some fantastic fun planned for this July 12-13 weekend. You will not want to miss bringing the kiddos to our interactive "Frozen Sing-Along" at 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Cool off at a movie event where the littles are not expected to sit quietly. Come on down and sing your hearts out with your favorite characters and an auditorium of fellow fans with on-screen lyrics; even though you likely won't need them, these jams are probably a memorized household staple. Thanks to our generous sponsor, Central Nevada Health Network, both showings are free. "Frozen" is rated PG; the runtime is 1 hour and 42 minutes.

And speaking of heat, at 7 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday, we are showing the original 1986 "Top Gun" starring the sizzling duo of Tom Cruise and Kelly McGillis. Although when the movie was filmed, the squadrons were based at NAS Miramar in California, many of the scenes were filmed here at NAS Fallon, including the infamous low-level control tower fly-by. Western Nevada College sponsors this film to promote their Aviation Courses. For more information, visit: wnc.edu/class-schedule. Top Gun is rated PG; the runtime is 1 hour and 49 minutes.

On July 20 at 7 p.m., we will host Acid Box, a Fallon-local band that blends hard rock, heavy metal, and punk with a blues influence. The additional local talent of Anabelle and the Desert Scrubs will join them. There is a $10 cover charge.

Looking ahead to August, we will be participating in the 10th Annual Community Reunion, which includes a free concert on Friday, August 16, at 7 p.m. with River Rogue, open-house Theatre Tours on Saturday, August 17, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Community Karaoke from 2 to 4 p.m.

Do not miss our annual summer fundraising 5K fun run/walk on August 24, The Cantaloupe Canter. Early registration and sponsorship forms can be found on our website, fallontheatreatre.com.

FREE KIDS FISHING LICENSE

Thanks to generous donations made by members of the public to the Nevada Youth License Fund the Nevada Department of Wildlife (NDOW) is offering youth combination (fishing/hunting) licenses to anyone 12-17 years old at no cost to them, while supplies last!

A youth combination license allows the holder to legally fish in Nevada for one year from the issuance date, and after completing a hunter education course would also allow the holder to legally hunt. NDOW regularly sells youth combination licenses to anyone 12-17 years old for $15. Kids younger than 12 years old don't need a license to legally fish in Nevada!

What's Cooking in Kelli's Kitchen

By Kelli Kelly

One of the side effects of this heat dome that we are under is that nothing is cooking in Kelli's Kitchen. I don't want to turn on the oven. My stovetop is only minimally utilized. And it is hard to motivate myself to go outside to cook on the grill. Since Ned is not particularly interested in fanning me with a palm frond while I recline on a settee and frozen grapes do not provide enough nourishment to sustain, I have found myself pivoting to cold dinners. Fortunately, many tasty recipes fit the bill. Here are a few that you might enjoy while praying for cooler weather.

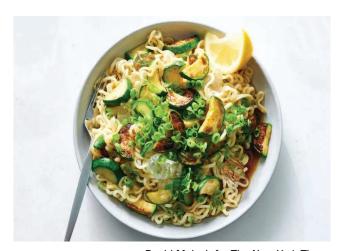

Kelli Kelly, Slinger of Produce. Slurper of Dumplings. Person of the Bean.

Cold Noodles with Zucchini - by Eric Kim

This recipe is a single portion

DIRECTIONS:

- 1. Trim the tips off the zucchini, then halve lengthwise and slice into 1/3 inch half moons. Sprinkle with 1/2 tsp. salt, toss to combine, and let sit for 10-30 minutes to draw out excess
- 2. Bring a pot of water to boil. Cook the noodles according to the package instructions. Drain, then rinse under cold water until cool to touch. Transfer to an individual service bowl.
- 3. Stir together the maple syrup, soy sauce, fish sauce, and garlic powder.
- 4. Pat the zucchini dry. Heat a large skillet over high, then add the oil. When you see a wisp of smoke, carefully arrange the zucchini in an even layer and season with salt. Cook undisturbed until the zucchini is browned on one side (1-2 minutes), then flip the pieces and cook until tender-crisp (about 1 more minute).
- 5. Transfer the zucchini to the bowl with the sauce. Add the ice, then quickly toss until the zucchini is cool. Adjust seasoning with more salt (the dressing should be salty at this stage, as the melting ice and noodles will dilute it).
- 6. To eat, pour the zucchini and its dressing over the noodles. Spritz with citrus, top with scallions, and eat immediately. If you would like, add more maple syrup, soy, or fish sauce.

David Malosh for The New York Times. Food Stylist: Simon Andrews.

Ingredients:

1 Large zucchini (about 1/2 lb.)

Salt

3-4 oz. Dried ramen, somen, or capellini noodles

Ingredients:

Cold Chickpea-Tahini Soup - by Mark Bittman

1 cup chopped tomatoes chopped cucumbers 1 cup 1/4 cup chopped red onion chopped pitted olives 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley 1/4 cup Salt and Pepper to taste

3 cups cooked or canned chickpeas

lemon juice 3 tbsp. olive oil 1 tbsp. 1/4 tsp.ground cumin clove garlic

2-3 tbsp. tahini 1/2 cup crumbled feta

DIRECTIONS:

- 1. Mix the garlic, serrano chile, lime juice, mayo, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1/2 tsp. pepper in a medium bowl.
- 2. Add the cilantro, avocado, tomato, and red onion to the bowl with the dressing. Add the tuna and 1/4 tsp. salt and toss until combined. Adjust seasoning.
- 3. Divide among the tostada shells and top with hot sauce if desired.

DIRECTIONS:

- 1. Combine chopped tomatoes, cucumber, red onion, olives, parsley, and a sprinkle of salt and pepper in a bowl and set aside.
- 2. Combine chickpeas, lemon juice, 1 thsp. olive oil, cumin, garlic, tahini, and a sprinkle of salt and pepper in a blender. Gradually add water (start with 1 cup) and blend until smooth and thin enough to pour. Taste and adjust seasoning. Pour into bowls and top with the chopped vegetable mixture, some crumbled feta, a sprinkle of cumin, and a generous drizzle of olive oil.
